Case DCA212-002

- Consideration of amending Chapters 51 and 51A of the Dallas Development Code, with consideration to be given to amending Section 51-4.216.1, “Lodging Uses” and Section 51A-4.205 “Lodging Uses” to define a new use called “Short-term rental lodging” and related regulations.
- 12.2.2021 - initiated by City Plan Commission (CPC)

Updates – Purpose Statement

To establish regulations to protect the health and safety of occupants of short-term rental properties, to protect the integrity of the districts in which short-term rental properties operate, and to preserve the neighborhood character of residential districts within the city and to minimize adverse impacts to the housing supply caused by the conversion of residential units to transient use.

Updates – Regulations

- Add 6 STR or 10% of total units (whichever is less) maximum to multifamily properties in MF zoning districts (MF-2(A), MF-2(SAH), MF-3, MF-4).
- Prohibit the use of any unit as an STR on a property that has received and utilized a Mixed Income Housing Development Bonus under Section 51-4.900 or 51A-4.1100.

Correction / Clarification

- Owner Occupancy – Other City Standards

- Many cities do not differentiate, but some that do follow:

- San Antonio

- San Antonio differentiates between owner or operator occupied, not non-owner occupied.

- Density limits for STRs apply only to non-owner or non-operator occupied STRs. (12.5%)

- Established by homestead exemption, voter registration, vehicle registration, lease agreement that expressly allows short-term rental, written permission from landlord, “or similar means.”

- San Antonio allows a tenant to operate a short-term rental as a Type 1 (no density limits) with written permission from the landlord.

Correction / Clarification

- Owner Occupancy – Other City Standards

- Based on recent court rulings, the ability for a city to regulate owner-occupied STRs differently than non-owner occupied STRs is likely eliminated.
